

God by Sonali Raj

Do you know who owns the ocean?
Who makes the sun leave by dusk
And awakes at dawn

Do you know who gives rise to the big waves
Who is it that made tigers then
Diminishes their number every day

You say it's you who lives two hours in one
You who ride a lion
You have never lied

Do you know who makes the Northern Lights
Who makes the dolphins cry?
Is it you who blows the breeze into my room

Tell me if it's you who draws the current
What is it you do with your strength
